The 411: Youth to Youth Info is a group of committed high school students who are trained to mentor middle school students on health issues facing adolescents. This year they are playing an integral part in the formation of a new middle school after school program where they will work, along with an adult, to help middle schoolers formulate projects and empower the younger students. It is exciting to imagine a program that both the high school students and the middle school students are pround to be a part of because they formed it.

The Wednesday Documentary Group, founded in the spring of 2004, meets every week to document the island in photographs. They take field trips almost every Wednesday to locations all over the island, and document in a wide variety of media, including digital, 35mm, 120mm, and 4x5 film. They had an exhibit in the May 2005 MVRHS Evening of the Arts, and had an exhibit in April 2006, "Forgotten Postcards."

...went to Central MA ice fishing in January 2006. The first day they caught four species, with a total of 21 fish. Sunday brought a huge snowstorm and the end of the trip, but a great time was had by all.

...traveled to Pittsfield, MA and fished Onota Lake, also in Winter 2006. Temperatures were in the teens and the wind and snow did not help. Onota had 12" of ice. Club members negotiated with nature and prevailed. All fish were released to be caught another day.

Rebecca Amos Institute

Rebecca Amos Institute is an alternative program to MVRHS. They have smaller classes and an open classroom. Students are responsible for creating their own schedules. This means that somethimes they may start at 9, attend until 1 and then come back at 3. This is a great alternative to the traditional high school program and the charter school.

The Vineyard Lacrosse team looked to improve upon last years peformance. They were determined to make it further into the post season after there 2nd round lost to Cohasset. They looked towards attackman sensation Edison Parzanese to lead they way on offense. A fast middie line of Matt Rossi, David Amabile and Tim Scott should create havoc on fast breaks. Defense Wizardry will be the backbone of the team. Holding it down on defense are longpoles Andrew Farrissey, Alex Avakian, and newcomer Evan Kendall.

VINEYARD

FOOTBALL 2006

The vineyard got off to a good start in the 2005-2006 season by defeating Carver in their first game 37-6. The next game would be a tough one for them as they had to face the undefeated division 2 Lynn Classical Rams. The Vineyard actually lost the game 34-19 but they fought hard he whole game and used the loss as motavation in games to c me. Working hard the week after the loss the Vineyard killed its next opponent Pembroke 21-3. The win really helped the Vineyard players pick up some momen- tum for the rest of the season and boosted their confidence for all the games on the long road to the super bowl. Their coaches Donald Herman, Bill Belcher, and Mike McCarthy were a huge part of their succes this season and deserve a lot of credit for coaching them the past four years.

Head Coach Doug deBettencourt knew that entering the 2005 golf season with a young inexperienced team it was going to be a challenge. He looked towards ace Tony Grillo, senior captain Lilla Warren and senior Sam Bell to lead the way against a tough schedule. Albion Alley stepped up and gave an impressive performance this year and will be looked upon next year to team up with Tony Grillo to deliver a powerful one-two punch for opponents.

To speak truly, few adult persons can see nature. Most persons do not see the sun. At least they have a very superficial seeing. The sun illuminates only the eye of the man, but shines into the eye and the heart of the child. The lover of nature is he whose inward and outward senses are still truly adjusted to each other; who has retained the spirit of infancy even into the era of manhood.

Thoughts & Reflections: Take pride in how far you have come, have faith in how far you can go. Be yourself never in your life should you ever feel that who you are isn't good enough For all those people who haven't turned their back on me, and have treated me the way I've treated them... Thanks.

Dillon Bartkus

...But man, in the ideal, is so noble and so sparkling, such a grand and glowing creature, that over any ignominious blemish in him all his fellows should run to throw their costliest robes. That immaculate manliness we feel within ourselves, so far within us, that it remains intact though all the outer character seem gone; bleeds with keenest anguish at the undraped spectacle of a valor-ruined man. Nor can piety itself, at such a shameful sight, completely stifle her upbraidings against the permitting stars. But this august dignity I treat of, is not the dignity of kings and robes, but that abounding dignity which has no robed investiture. Thou shalt see it shining in the arm that wields a pick or drives a spike; that democratic dignity which, on all hands, radiates without end from God; Himself! The great God absolute! The center and circumfrence of all democracy! His omnipresence, our divine equality!

I remember:
Sailing into the fog. Riding horses by myself, straining my body to round the bit, to stretch the back, to lift and float. Cards on Thursday. The green vales of England. Minnesingers and Judgie, the sleepless nights, my sore days. Mom, Dad and Aria. My laughing friends. High jump: "leaping backwards over the rising bar," reaching 4'11" and hoping for 5 feet! Love of the written word. My Novel. Singing opera, climbing trees, drawing faces, storming Washington, being a woman! Acting "muy orgasmico" at lunchtime conversations. Kandace,

Life goes by fast. Don't miss any opportunities that come up whether it is in jobs, travel, college, etc... Do what you can and take advantage of all opportunities. Remember this shows who you are in the business world in years to come. Don't let others influence you not to take these opportunities. It will make your life so much more entertaining than sitting around before you read your goals of life. Keep all your goals alive and move on them when it is time.

Take time, make time, and do it all.

The Yearbook class meets for the entire first semester during school while the yearbook club meets every Thursday. Each of these groups work together in order to get the yearbook done and sent off to print. Deadlines are crazy but in the end the yearbook turns out great and all the hard work pays off.
